Ananda Fund

“That gift which is given, knowing it to be a duty, in a fit time and place, to a worthy person, from whom we expect nothing in return, is held to be SATTVIC. “ – Srimad Bhagavad Geeta 17:20

1. What is “Ananda Fund”?

Ananda Fund is a monthly recurring automatic withdrawal from a donor’s bank account as authorized by the donor.

2. What will be this fund used for?

The fund will be used towards maintenance, mortgage, repaying loan principal and other capital projects etc. as determined by the Board.

3. Is this donation tax-deductible?

Yes. Please consult your tax accountant for further information. Chinmaya Mission Twin Cities will issue a donation letter at the end of calendar year.

4. What is the amount that a donor can authorize for monthly withdrawal?

It can be any amount that you wish to pledge. There is no maximum limit. We suggest minimum $50/month so that transaction charges become a small percentage of the donation.

5. On which day of the month the withdrawal transaction take place?

The transaction will take place on the 5th day of every month for the duration of your pledge.

5. How can one enroll in this fund?

One can enroll by filling out the pledge form and giving it to one of the volunteers.

6. How can I learn more about this fund?

Any member of the Fund Raising Committee will be able to answer your questions. Please visit our website for contact information.
